ALTHEA F. RICHARDSON BECOMES NEWEST MEMBER OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF LEGAL SERVICES OF THE HUDSON VALLEY

(White Plains, New York) Althea F. Richardson, lawyer and attorney at the Law Office of Althea F. Richardson, Esq., in White Plains, NY was elected to join the Board of Directors of Legal Services of the Hudson Valley (LSHV). Alfred E. Donnellan, President of the Board of Legal Services of the Hudson Valley and Managing Attorney at DelBello Donnellan Weingarten Wise & Wiederkehr, LLP in White Plains, New York, said, "Ms. Richardson has had much experience working with cases and clients that are similar to those of LSHV, including low-income individuals and families and cases regarding family law. I look forward to working with her in addressing the legal problems facing the people we serve."

Ms. Richardson holds a JD degree from Western New England College School of Law and a BS degree in Economics from Northeastern University. Admitted to practice in New York State, Richardson has worked in the areas of family, criminal, civil rights, labor, and matrimonial law in Westchester County, Bronx County, and the communities of White Plains, Mount Vernon, Yonkers, the Bronx, and New Rochelle. Currently, she is a solo practitioner, specializing in matrimonial and family law.

For 40 years, Legal Services of the Hudson Valley has provided free civil legal service to poor individuals and families in the areas of housing, domestic violence, elder law, civil rights, children's advocacy, disabilities, HIV/AIDS, public benefits, consumer law and education. LSHV is funded through a variety of sources including government funding and grants and donations from law firms, foundations, corporations, attorneys, and individuals. Additional information about Legal Services of the Hudson Valley can be found at <http://www.lshv.org>.
