A Message from our CEO

We are humbled at the impact we have had, and the support we have garnered throughout the past 50 years. Indeed, during that time, many of you have been at our side, while we help to improve the lives of our neighbors by resolving a full range of legal problems impacting the basic necessities of life including housing and mortgage foreclosure matters, domestic violence, family law, employment, and consumer law and others so that vulnerable households don't lose their homes, health care, food and subsistence income.

It's a challenging responsibility being the only provider of free, comprehensive civil legal services in the lower and mid-Hudson Valley. Last year, across the seven counties we serve -- Westchester, Putnam, Rockland, Dutchess, Orange, Ulster, and Sullivan -- we handled more than 15,500 cases impacting more than 36,000 household members. And since our founding in 1967, we've helped almost half a million people!

With no general right to counsel in civil matters, low income individuals continue to flock to LSHV for help when facing civil legal matters affecting the essentials of life that no one can live without. In more than 70% of civil cases today, people who can't afford legal representation end up going to court alone -- and many lose everything.

While we work across a wide variety of urgent civil practice areas affecting basic human needs, often the last domino to fall for our clients is losing the roof over their heads. That's why, in honor of our 50th Anniversary, we established the LET JUSTICE GROW Campaign to prevent homelessness for children and families across the lower and mid-Hudson Valley.

I'm often asked why Civil Legal Services is important, especially in eviction and foreclosure prevention. It's really very simple. Homelessness threatens the stability of families at the poverty level and imposes enormous costs on communities in the form of providing shelter, increased social services, and other acute services.

Children that are evicted and uprooted typically are set back six months or more in their education.

Families that are forced to move often lose important employment opportunities and cannot improve their income or prospects for the future.

But just as important as the "Why," is the "Who."

The people that we help through LSHV are our neighbors, our daughters or our children. It is a succinct and powerful message, which unfortunately is all too true. 70% of our clients are women and almost 40% of those impacted by our services are children. So many of our neighbors -- who are just like us -- endure one major illness, one job loss, or one tragedy, and the result is a desperate situation and someone in need of a helping hand. Oftentimes they need access to fair treatment by the courts. They need an attorney to fight for their rights. They need justice! That's where we make a difference.

So, whether you are a long-standing partner or new friend, I implore you to get more involved. Whether you make a contribution, volunteer as a Pro Bono attorney, help us raise money at a future event, share our content on social media, or simply tell a friend or two about the important work that we're doing, you will be helping us to make a difference right here in the communities where we live and work.

Because, it's only together that we can ensure Equal Access to Justice for all regardless of ability to pay.

Sincerely,

Barbara Finkelstein, Esq.
Chief Executive Officer

50th Anniversary

LET JUSTICE GROW Campaign

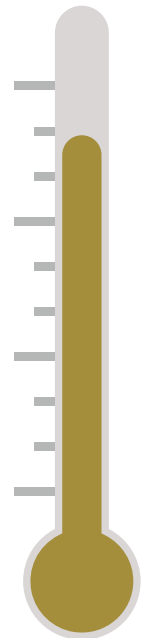

In honor of LSHV's 50th Anniversary in 2017, we launched the LET JUSTICE GROW $1 million campaign to benefit the organization's efforts to prevent homelessness for children and families across the Hudson Valley.

The LET JUSTICE GROW Campaign will promote household and community stability by providing legal advice and counsel to homeowners in foreclosure and tax proceedings and assist tenants in unwarranted eviction cases to help families stay in their homes and remain productive members of society.

In cases where evictions and foreclosures are not prevented, the effects are felt not only by families and individuals themselves, but by the community at large. Losing a home threatens the stability of families, disrupts children's education, and often leads to violent or unsafe situations. Costs of providing shelter, increased social services, and other acute services are then spread to the surrounding community. Making sure vulnerable families can stay in their homes and off the street is vital to keeping communities healthy and safe.

Agency-wide, almost 44% of our cases are housing related. With a goal of raising $1 million by December 31, 2017, the 50th Anniversary LET JUSTICE GROW Campaign will directly impact the work of our staff attorneys and paralegals who handled more than 6,000 housing cases impacting more than 13,000 family members in 2016.

Goal
$1 million

We're almost there.

In just a few short months, LSHV has already raised more than $730,000 toward the LET JUSTICE GROW Campaign.

Tom Gabriel, LSHV's Chief Development Officer said, "We have been overwhelmed by the generosity of individuals and businesses in the community who have stepped-up to support our efforts to provide a helping hand to our neighbors in need during times of tragedy and other life-threatening circumstances."

What you can do to prevent homelessness in the Hudson Valley:

Support the LET JUSTICE GROW Campaign! A contribution of any amount will make all the difference to children and families who are on the brink of homelessness.

Supporters of the campaign at all levels will be recognized for their generosity, in both our Annual Report and on our website.

Contributions above $1,500 will be recognized on our special TREE OF JUSTICE to be installed in the fall of 2017 at LSHV's Main Office in White Plains:

- Contributors giving $1,500 to $2,999 will receive a Silver Leaf inscribed and installed on our Permanent Tree of Justice installation
- Contributors giving $3,000 to $9,999 will receive a Gold Leaf inscribed and installed on our Permanent Tree of Justice installation
- Contributors giving $10,000 to $25,000 will receive a Base Stone inscribed and installed under our Permanent Tree of Justice installation
- Contributors giving $25,000 or more will be honored with a Conference Room plaque dedication in one of our eight offices

A video highlighting the purpose of LSHV's LET JUSTICE GROW Campaign and what it will benefit can be viewed on YouTube at <https://youtu.be/PE5RwS02RB8>.

For more information or to contribute to the TREE OF JUSTICE, please contact Tom Gabriel, Chief Development Officer at 914.949.1305 ext.160 or tgabriel@lshv.org.

The LET JUSTICE GROW Campaign

is co-chaired by LSHV Board Members, Joshua E. Kimerling, Esq. (Partner, Cuddy & Feder LLP) and Thomas R.

Lalla, Jr., Esq. (Retired General Counsel, Pernod Ricard USA).

Rose's Story

It only takes one major illness... one job loss... one tragedy for many of us to find ourselves in a desperate situation and in need of a helping hand. Many of our clients come to us at the worst time in their lives, hoping to find a reprieve.

Rose* is a divorced mother of three children – two sons and a daughter. Her 12 year-old son is autistic and has special needs. She is self-employed and owns a small house in the mid-Hudson Valley. Her home was badly damaged during both Hurricanes Sandy and Katrina, and she had to pay out of pocket close to $30,000 for significant repairs as she only received about $1,000 from FEMA. This amounted to all of Rose's savings and safety net.

Shortly afterwards, Rose's oldest son, who was 23-years-old at the time, died suddenly of a massive heart attack. In addition to dealing with such a devastating emotional blow to her family, having to pull together money for her son's funeral and burial caused Rose to fall behind on her mortgage and she eventually defaulted. Rose was desperate to keep her home, not only because she had raised her family there and worked so hard to buy and later repair it, but because her autistic son was enrolled in a special education program in the school district and receiving services.

Rose repeatedly tried to work with the bank to modify her mortgage so her family could stay in their home, but the bank refused to work with her. She was under the impression that she had a 30 year mortgage with a 2% fixed interest rate, but in fact it had an ARM that increased the interest rate to 10.5% – well beyond what she could afford.

She was working with a foreclosure housing counselor to assist her in negotiating with the bank to modify the mortgage, but the bank continued to deny these requests and made repeated mistakes on her paperwork – such as using an inaccurate value for the house and misstating Rose's income. The housing counselor felt that the bank was not negotiating in good faith during the settlement conference and reached out to LSHV to intervene.

An LSHV attorney filed a motion with the court setting forth that the bank was not negotiating in good faith, which immediately prompted the bank to negotiate. Subsequently, our attorney successfully negotiated with the bank to give Rose $67,000 in loan forgiveness if she stays current for three years and more importantly, a new 40-year loan with a fixed interest rate of 3%. Her family is now stabilized with an affordable monthly mortgage.

In a very short period of time, Rose and her family experienced hardships that would be difficult – at the very least – for many of us to imagine. Their circumstances changed drastically, and they needed someone to step in, lend a helping hand, and fight for their rights. LSHV was able to do so, and as a result, Rose's family avoided homelessness, remained in their home, and her son continued to receive the special education services he needed.

Sold Out! LSHV's 50th Anniversary Celebration Breaks Records, Raises Essential Funding to Prevent Homelessness

Almost 400 people showed their commitment to and support for Legal Services of the Hudson Valley (LSHV) during its 2017 Equal Access to Justice Dinner on April 6th at the Ritz Carlton, Westchester in White Plains.

The sold out event, which was co-chaired by Alfred E. Donnellan, Managing Partner at DelBello Donnellan Weingarten Wise & Wiederker LLP, and David Boies, Chairman at Boies Schiller Flexner LLP, raised more than $430,000 for the nonprofit organization which provides free, comprehensive, civil legal services to those that cannot afford it when their basic human needs are at stake.

At the Dinner, Barbara Finkelstein, LSHV's CEO, spoke about the 36,000 people impacted by the organization's work last year. Across the Hudson Valley, 16% of children live in poverty, and 1 in 4 live at/or below 200% of the Federal Poverty Income Guideline Level which is $48,600 for a family of four. "The people that we help are our neighbors, our daughters and sons... they are just like us, but after one major illness, job loss, or tragedy, the dominoes start to fall, and they end up in a desperate situation and in need of a helping hand."

To help articulate that message, the organization premiered two videos at the event, including an intense and personal client story. Both videos can be viewed on YouTube as well as on the organization's website www.lshv.org. After both videos premiered, nationally renowned auctioneer, CK Swett, conducted a Fund-a-Need to raise additional dollars for the organization's efforts to prevent homelessness for children and families.

But the highlight of the evening was the three honorees recognized for their long-standing commitment to LSHV and the promise afforded to all citizens... Justice for All. They included Philip M. Halpern, Managing Partner at Collier Halpern Newberg & Nolletti; Lucille Oppenheim, a long-time Board member and retired attorney from Gutterman & Oppenheim; and the international law firm of Morrison & Foerster LLP.

While hundreds of individuals and businesses made generous contributions in support of the 2017 Equal Access to Justice Dinner, the event's major sponsors included: Diamond Sponsors - An Anonymous Donation in honor of Philip M. Halpern; Boies Schiller Flexner LLP; DelBello Donnellan Weingarten Wise & Wiederkehr, LLP; Morrison & Foerster LLP; Platinum Sponsors - Lucille & Steven Oppenheim; Patterson Belknap Webb Tyler LLP; PepsiCo; and Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan, LLP; and Gold Sponsors - Bleakley Platt & Schmidt, LLP and Sher Tremonte LLP.

All of the funds raised through the event benefitted the organization's LET JUSTICE GROW 50th Anniversary Campaign which seeks to "Prevent homelessness for children and families across the lower and mid-Hudson Valley."

Legal Services of the Hudson Valley Hosted a Successful 3rd Annual Dutchess Partners in Justice Reception

On Thursday, September 22, 2016, 225 people attended Legal Services of the Hudson Valley's 3rd Annual Dutchess Partners in Justice Reception at Locust Grove Estate in Poughkeepsie. During the program, a fundraiser to support LSHV's work in Dutchess County, Timmian Massie, Senior Vice President for Marketing, Public Affairs and Government Relations at Health Quest was honored as "Champion of Justice." The law firm Iseman, Cunningham, Riester & Hyde LLP was recognized as "Advocate for Justice." The event was a success, raising significantly more funds than last year's program.

Barbara Finkelstein, Esq., Legal Services of the Hudson Valley's CEO, opened the program with a welcome to guests and thanked our community for its overwhelming show of support of LSHV's work. She said "Legal Services of the Hudson Valley is the only provider of comprehensive, free civil legal services in our region. Our attorneys, paralegals, advocates and other professionals provide high-quality legal assistance in housing, family matters, access to subsistence income, and access to health care and education. From Westchester to Dutchess and Sullivan to Ulster, more than half a million Hudson Valley residents are eligible for our services."

Client speaker, Amy, inspired attendees by sharing her story of being helped by LSHV to leave an abusive relationship and to gain custody of her sons. She called herself "the face of Legal Services of the Hudson Valley's clients – your neighbor, your friend, your co-worker, your sister, your daughter," and asked the audience to support LSHV's work for the sake of others like her who have nowhere else to turn when they face life-altering crises like domestic violence, loss of a home to eviction or foreclosure, or the loss of subsistence income. She credited LSHV Staff Attorney for Domestic Violence Services, Elizabeth Corwin, with giving her and her children the second start in life she thought she would never see. Amy has since shared her inspiring story in a video to promote LSHV.

2016 Dutchess Partners in Justice sponsors included: Gold – Health Quest; Silver – Iseman, Cunningham, Riester & Hyde LLP and McCabe & Mack LLP; Bronze – Central Hudson, Cuddy & Feder LLP, Ettinger Law Firm, Hudson Valley Federal Credit Union, the Irwin Burlingame Bagtas Group of Merrill Lynch Wealth Management/Merrill Lynch Bank of America Corporation, Marist College, MVP Health Care, and Chuck and Mark Rollins of the Rollins Agency; Giving Tree – Jackson Lewis and two anonymous individuals.

Hudson Valley News Network (HVNN) and iHeart Media were Media Sponsors of the event. Adams Fairacre Farms contributed significant in-kind support. In addition, 14 corporations provided advertising or other financial support.

Inaugural Orange Partners in Justice Reception Was Successful Beyond All Expectations

We're proud to announce that we hosted our Inaugural Orange Partners in Justice Reception on Thursday, May 18, at The Powelton Club in Newburgh. With over 120 individuals in attendance, we honored Andrew Finkelstein, Esq., Partner, and Finkelstein & Partners, LLP, as Champion of Justice and the United Way of the Dutchess-Orange Region as Advocate for Justice.

Mr. Finkelstein and his firm were honored for loyal support of LSHV's work over many years, as well as for their widely respected Community Service Program, through which employees give time, talent and financial gifts to nonprofits addressing critical social needs. The United Way was recognized for partially funding LSHV's housing services during its 2015-2016 and 2016-2017 grant cycles, and for its philanthropic leadership and efforts to alleviate poverty in Dutchess and Orange Counties.

While accepting his award, Mr. Finkelstein said, "Through the years it has been our honor to assist LSHV in its mission, whether this be through pro bono legal services or raising contributions at our CLE classes, and we deeply believe in the LSHV's philosophy of providing equal access to justice for all."

In accepting on behalf of the United Way of the Dutchess-Orange Region, Jeannie Montano, President & CEO, remarked, "The United Way strongly supports Legal Services' aim to provide free, high quality counsel in civil matters to individuals and families who cannot afford to pay an attorney where basic human needs are at stake."

The event was a big success thanks, in part, to a Sponsorship Match Challenge from the Ralph E. Ogden Foundation, for which we are grateful. A special thank you to our event sponsors: Gold - Finkelstein & Partners, LLP; Silver - Empire State Bank; Bronze - Catania Mahon Milligram & Rider, PLLC; Orange & Rockland Utilities; Rand Commercial; Times Herald-Record; and United Way of the Dutchess-Orange Region.

LSHV is growing today to increase our impact tomorrow!

As Legal Services of the Hudson Valley (LSHV) embarks on its 50th Anniversary, the organization is proud to announce the addition of five new members to its Board of Directors.

LSHV's CEO, Barbara Finkelstein, said of the group, "We are delighted to welcome them to the team at Legal Services of the Hudson Valley, and are excited for their leadership and vision in support of our efforts to provide free civil legal services to tens of thousands of residents in the lower and mid-Hudson Valley each year."

Jean Anderson is a long-time community advocate and civil-servant. Most recently, she was a substitute teacher at Daniel Webster Elementary School in New Rochelle. But for most of her career, she worked for Westchester County's Department of Social Services as an Eligibility Examiner and prior to that, a Quality Control Inspector. Ms. Anderson also worked for Westchester County Opportunity Program as an Outreach Worker for the Community Alcoholism Program, as well as the New York State Division for Youth as a Weekend House Parent.

Sean Brady is a Private Wealth Manager and Supervisor at Clarfeld Financial Advisors in Tarrytown where he serves as an investment advisor and financial planner to high net worth individuals, and is responsible for the training and development of junior planners.

Frances Pantaleo is a Partner at Bleakley, Platt & Schmidt LLP, a law firm in White Plains. Pantaleo is no stranger to LSHV, having been involved for many years as a Pro Bono attorney and former Co-Chair of the organization's Equal Access to Justice fundraising Dinner. She was an attorney with the Civil Division of the NYC Legal Aid Society in the mid-1980s, and worked as a clinical professor at Cardozo Law School representing elderly and disabled individuals with a broad range of legal problems.

Sidney S. Rosdeitcher is of counsel at Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton and Garrison LLP in New York City, where he was a litigation partner until his retirement. Mr. Rosdeitcher is currently a member of the amicus committees of the American Bar Association's Section on Civil Rights and Social Justice and the Lawyers Committee for Civil Rights under Law and teaches a constitutional law seminar for undergraduates at Columbia University.

Vanessa Kaye Watson is Vice President, Senior Managing Counsel at Mastercard International Incorporated. In this role, she manages the team responsible for supporting Mastercard Advisors North America region, including legal staff, outside counsel and contractors. She first joined Mastercard in 2011 as Vice President, Senior Counsel. Prior to joining the corporation, she was an Associate at Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP, in New York, NY for almost a decade.

Promotes Chief Program Officer

LSHV also announced the promotion of Rachel Chazin Halperin, J.D., L.M.S.W., to Chief Program Officer at the organization. Halperin joined LSHV in 2014 as the Deputy Director. She has been working as an advocate for underserved and vulnerable populations for almost 20 years. After graduating from law school, she worked for four years as a staff attorney and then supervising attorney at the Legal Aid Society of the District of Columbia where she represented victims of domestic violence in family court. In 2004, she became the Legal Director of My Sisters' Place, the largest domestic violence service provider in Westchester, NY. From 2008 to 2014, Halperin worked at HELP USA as the Executive Director of Domestic Violence Programs - including HELP Haven emergency shelter and HELP ROADS non-residential domestic violence program.
